

Yulim (Chrissy) Lee, who resides in Cupertino, California, is a 15-year-old who not only dreams, but also takes action. At Homestead High School, she is the president and founder of the Free the Children club, as well as a member of the National Honor Society, the Mathematics Team, and the French National Honor Society. Chrissy is passionate about spreading knowledge of global issues, living a vegetarian lifestyle, helping disadvantaged families, and having her voice heard by the world. Pursuing her love for law and legal studies, she is also currently a volunteer at a law office where attorneys only take on pro bono cases. She aspires to be a successful lawyer sometime in the future. Her favorite hobbies include shopping, jazz dancing, jogging in the morning, and learning about new cultures and languages.
